

WORCESTER COUNTY FIELDWORK
MASSACHUSETTS CULTURAL COUNCIL

PHOTO LOG

Roll No: TC-00-24-CS1

Fieldworker: Tom Carroll
Date(s): 24 June 2000
Film Type: Color Slides

SUBJECT/LOCATION #1: A G Welding, Lewis Street, Worcester

SUBJECT/LOCATION #2:

SUBJECT/LOCATION #3:

SUBJECT/LOCATION #4:

Frame #                      Description

1 Chair designed and hand made by Al Campolitto, co-owner with Tony Gurgone of A G Welding. These chairs are located in the company office, which adjoins the shop. Al told me that all the chairs there were experiments that he later improved on. He said that in general, he was not happy with the chairs pictured here. They are prototypes, and the later chairs produced from them are more satisfactory.

2 ditto

3 ditto

4 ditto, detail of chair arm

5 ditto, closeup of chair seat

6 ditto, closeup of chair seat

- 7 Clock with decorative iron work border
- 8 Iron and cast aluminum pieces in A G Welding office
- 9 Chair
- 10 Sconce designed and made by Al
- 11 ditto
- 12 Detail of chair
- 13 ditto
- 14 Decorative iron railing in the shop for restoration and repair. Al looks forward working on this, which he describes as a very fine piece.
- 15 Detail of #14
- 16 ditto, showing bolted joints, which indicate the great age of the piece
- 17 Detail of bolt
- 18 Detail of decorative motif
- 19 Detail of section of fence
- 20 Iron staircase in the shop for repair
- 21 Front view of shop entrance, showing iron staircase at left, entrance to company office at right (sign on open door)
- 22 Industrial facility on Lincoln Avenue, counterpoint to A G Welding, perhaps
- 23 ditto