Office of the Governor
Massachusetts State House, Room 280
Boston, Massachusetts 02133

Dear Governor Patrick,

On Saturday, September 28, 2013 many in your commonwealth will roll up their sleeves and head for the great outdoors as part of the 20th Anniversary of National Public Lands Day. This annual celebration of service, the nation's largest, single-day volunteer effort for public lands, attracts volunteers of all ages. In addition to federal public lands, these volunteers restore and enhance state, commonwealth and local public lands.

In 2012, you proclaimed a statewide National Public Lands Day. We are seeking your support again this year to proclaim September 28, 2013 as National Public Lands Day. We hope you will help us celebrate two decades of public land volunteerism by participating in the 20th Anniversary of National Public Lands Day. We hope you will consider how your commonwealth can once again benefit from taking part in this far-reaching effort. Your continued support will encourage residents of your commonwealth to volunteer and take additional pride in their community.

The National Environmental Education Foundation coordinates National Public Lands Day along with many local, commonwealth and federal land management agencies. Toyota Motor Sales, USA, Inc. is the national corporate sponsor for the 15th year. We anticipate more than $18 million in volunteer services will be completed as a result of this effort at over 2,000 public land locations throughout all 50 states, the District of Columbia and in many U.S. territories.

Enclosed is a sample proclamation highlighting many of the educational, environmental and health benefits National Public Lands Day provides to local communities. Also enclosed is the 2012 Massachusetts site list. If you would like to locate this year's participation for your commonwealth, please visit publiclandsday.org/npld-sites. Sites are registered daily.

For more information, please contact Tracey Adams, senior associate for the Public Lands Program at (202) 261-6479 or tadams@neefusa.org. We are happy to work with your staff to increase your commonwealth's volunteerism and visibility on National Public Lands Day.

Thank you for your support. We look forward to adding Massachusetts to the growing list of states and commonwealths celebrating the 20th Anniversary of National Public Lands Day.

Sincerely,

- Whereas: Public lands provide locally accessible natural and cultural resources for environmental learning, wildlife appreciation and recreation; and
- Whereas: Public lands promote civic ideals that include shared stewardship and recognition of public ownership; and
- Whereas: Shared stewardship requires the goodwill, cooperation and active support of citizens, community, local and commonwealth officials, business leaders, youth and adults; and
- Whereas: Recreation opportunities offered by public lands help families and individuals lead a active lifestyle and reduce the incidence of childhood obesity; and
- Whereas: Land conservation efforts improve access to public lands for urban residents and work to break down the barriers that prevent Americans from actively utilizing their public lands; and
- Whereas: A collaboration among commonwealth and local residents, land managers and community leaders improves the condition of publicly held lands for the greater enjoyment and enrichment of all Americans; and
- Whereas: National Public Lands Day, now celebrating its 20th Anniversary, is the nation's largest, single-day volunteer effort for public lands and is coordinated by the National Environmental Education Foundation. The Bureau of Land Management, Department of Defense, Environmental Protection Agency, National Park Service, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service and U.S. Forest Service serve as federal agency partners.
