Concerning m^r. Bradburys life & conversation

W^{ch} the Subscribers doe testifye that it was such as became y^e goy^e shoo was a lover of y^e ministrie & diligent attender upon gods holy ordinautes, being of a courteous & peacable disposition & caring: neither did any of vs (some of whom have lived in y^e towne ^{for above fifty yeares}) ever heare or knowe that shoo ever had any difference or falling out wth any of her neigbors: man woman or child: but was always ready & willing to doo for them wth laye in her power night & day, though wth hazard of her health: or other danger: more might be spoken in her commendation: but this for the present
