Last October I sent out the enclosed letter asking State and Federal Office holders to participate in one or two of our 300th Anniversary celebrations. I was told in most cases that the letter came too far in advance and to contact you in the spring. While it may not feel like Spring, it is here.

The two events are Opening Ceremonies on June 21 and our Parade on September 5th. We are expecting between 10,000 to 15,000 people to attend the parade and we intend on placing the elected officials near the start of the parade so you can move on or you are invited to view the parade from our viewing stand.

Office of the Governor Deval Patrick
State House, Room 280
Boston, MA 02133

Dear Governor Patrick:

The year of 2014 will be a special year for the Town of Littleton. Originally known as Nashobah Plantation, the home of the "praying Indians", it was incorporated as a town in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in 1714 after the King Philips War. 2014 will be the year we celebrate 300 years of our proud town.

Our Anniversary Committee has planned many special events. On June 21, 2014 we will have the Official Opening of our Tercentennial Celebrations. The festivities are scheduled to kick off with at 8:00 AM, if you are available to attend I'd like to offer you the opportunity to speak. The Opening includes breakfast with the time capsule artifacts on display and then onto the field to start the program being led by the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) and the Sons of the American Revolution (SAR).

On September 6th the Town will have its largest parade since the 250th Anniversary Parade. With sixty units committed to be part of the Parade it is going to be an amazing event. You are invited to march or we can supply a car for you. 2014 is an election year and to avoid having attention directed away from our celebration personal invitations will only be sent to current office holders. We expect attendance to be high for this event.

On behalf of the Tercentennial Committee, the Opening Committee, the Parade Committee and the Board of Selectman we invite you to participate in one or both events. Your attendance at these events would mean so much to our proud little town.

Respectfully,

Joseph S. Knox, Selectman
300th Parade Committee member
